1. Introduction

The Apache FOP team is proud to present to you the largely rewritten codebase which is finally in a state where you can start to use it. It has taken over three years to get this far and over two years without a new release from the FOP project. We would like to encourage you to download the code and to play with it. We're still in the process of adding new major features and stabilizing the code. We welcome any feedback you might have and even more, any other form of help to get the project forward.

2. Upgrading from an earlier version

If you're upgrading to this version from an earlier version of FOP, please read the information contained on the Upgrading page!
